M'Bride Suggests

The long-looked-for and much-expected letter from Claudius H. M'Bride has arrived and is here published in part. Acting Governor Mott-Smith did considerable editing before he passed it out for publication. However, there are a good many excellent bits of advice regarding the entertainment of the fleet in Hawaii, and his letter is full of valuable pointers. Many suggestions that otherwise might never have been heard of here, are thus brought before the various entertainment committees. It is a fact worthy of special mention that there are nearly two hundred ladies wives of the officers, who will come here, and special arrangements should be made for their care. Every bit of the letter that follows is worthy of consideration. To Hon. E. A. Mott-Smith, Permanent Chairman, Fleet Committee.

On last Saturday morning I presented the letter furnished me by you to the Mayor of San Francisco, Mr. Taylor. I had the honor, as well as pleasure, of spending Saturday with the Mayor. After a short ride in his automobile, we went to the Fairmont Hotel, where we met Hon.

James D. Phelan, George A. Newhall and Frederic W. Hall, the last-named gentlemen being chairmen of various Fleet committees here. We had quite a delightful, as well as prolonged, lunch at the hotel, during the greater part of which the conversation concerned suggestions from the Mayor and others as to how we in Hawaii could make a success of Fleet matters there, based on the extensive experience the San Francisco people have had in this matter. All of our functions should be divided as to officers, warrant officers, and sailors, a coalition of the three being contrary to naval etiquette. For instance, a dance and banquet should be given to the officers, some functions arranged for warrant officers, about eight of whom there are on each battleship, and separate events arranged for the sailors. But half of the officers obtain liberty at a time, so that each function for them will have to be duplicated; I think this applies also to warrant officers; but a third or fourth of the sailors get liberty at once.

The Mayor and Mr. Phelan strongly urge that the principal feature of

Hawaii's "Roosevelt" Fish

[From Paradise of the Pacific]

Dr. W. T. Brigham has written for the Paradise of the Pacific for June the following description of the Roosevelt fish, which, as exclusively announced in the Bulletin, was taken on to Washington by Governor Frear:
Some years ago one of the assistants in the Bishop Museum discovered in the market a fish that had not been described, and, supposing it to belong to the genus Serranus, named it after the director of the museum, Serranus brighamii. Further study showed that it did not belong to this genus and the gentlemen of the U. S. Fish Commission placed it in the genus Apollus, and under the name of Apollus brighamii published the description in the Report on the Hawaiian fishes, illustrating it with a colored plate. But the poor fish was not yet properly named, for more study convinced the authorities that the genus Apollus was not found in these waters and that the fish and another species must be placed in a new genus, which, in consideration of the interest the President has always shown in natural history, they named Rooseveltia. As the fish then seemed finally named (or at least for a while) it seemed well to let the President see a specimen of the beautiful fish which now bears his name, and as the plate in the Report hardly does justice to its subject, Mr. J. W. Thompson of the Museum staff, whose wonderful collection of painted casts has delighted so many visitors to the Museum, undertook to paint a cast as well as the peculiarly brilliant, but rather fugitive, colors of the fish permitted. Professor U. Thompson, of the Kameheha Schools, carved a most appropriate case for the cast and Governor Frear kindly consented to take this with him to Washington. The figures supporting the four corners of the case are in koa and copied from an ancient dish once the property of King Lunalilo; the framework is in selected kou, and the cover is of molo.

The fish is of a transparent red color with transverse bands of brilliant gold-yellow. It is one of our best food fishes.
